UKC'S FUTURE

Two towering lamps of modern design guard the entrance to the campus drive. Adjacent to the south lamp is an ivy-covered, pseudo-Gothic structure of traditional type. From the north lamp the campus slopes downward to meet the conventional university pond. Amid this setting of ancient architecture and shaded terrain the modernity of the lamps appears strangely out of context when we consider it only in terms of the periods represented by the predominant design of the University. But certainly these two pieces of artistic sculpture serve more than a purely decorative purpose. These lamps are functional not only in their production of light, but likewise in their symbolic suggestion that the University of Kansas City has not become a kind of scholastic snail, withdrawing into a shell of static isolation, but rather that she continually looks ahead and prepares herself for a brighter, more illuminating and promising future. Her future is, in fact, no longer simply an abstract idea. During the past nine months our attention has been continually focused on the progression in the construction of the long awaited Student Center—this building itself, even as the lamps, becoming a symbolic sign-post heralding the gradual development of the University of Kansas City into a major American university.

And yet, our speculations cannot confine themselves to the future alone, for the future is necessarily dependent upon the past and the present. The difficulties of UKC's history—including economic limitations, political schisms, and unwarranted criticism—should not be minimized, for in a consideration of them we recognize more completely the achievements of the University. Only a few of the present teaching staff recall the early days of the school during which she struggled against depression and disillusionment. Of these, Dr. Norman Moore, retiring assistant dean of the University Dental School and holder of the longest tenure among the faculty, retains a perspective unavailable to most of his contemporaries. He can recognize the difficulties of the past for essentially what they were—building blocks in the construction of a future—and at the same time can today foresee the fulfillment of that future. We shall be sorry at his departure, for his contributions to the development of the University in general, and to students in particular, are certainly beyond calculation.

The present, i.e., the 1959-60 year, has meant much in the continuing maturation of UKC. Probably the most momentous step was the inclusion of the Kansas City Conservatory of Music as the seventh school in the University makeup. The year saw the gradual materialization of the Student Center, under the capable direction of Bob Handy. The March Leadership Retreat held in Excelsior Springs emphasized the student backing and enthusiasm needed in the design of a major university. Numerous administration-student coffees had as their purpose the resolving of those problems which tended to check the growth and progress of the University. So it is then that the events of this year have in every sense anticipated those of coming years, proving that the University does not exist today in the twilight of a futile twenty-seven year struggle, but is herself looking ahead into an increasingly satisfactory future.

Our speculations concerning the future of the University are not all mere fanciful flights of the imagination. Plans are now underway and funds are being solicited for the construction of a replacement for the out-moded Fine Arts Building; for an up-to-date Pharmacy Building to replace the temporary structure; and for the construction of a modernized Dental Building to be located on the Volker Campus. In the more distant future, we foresee:

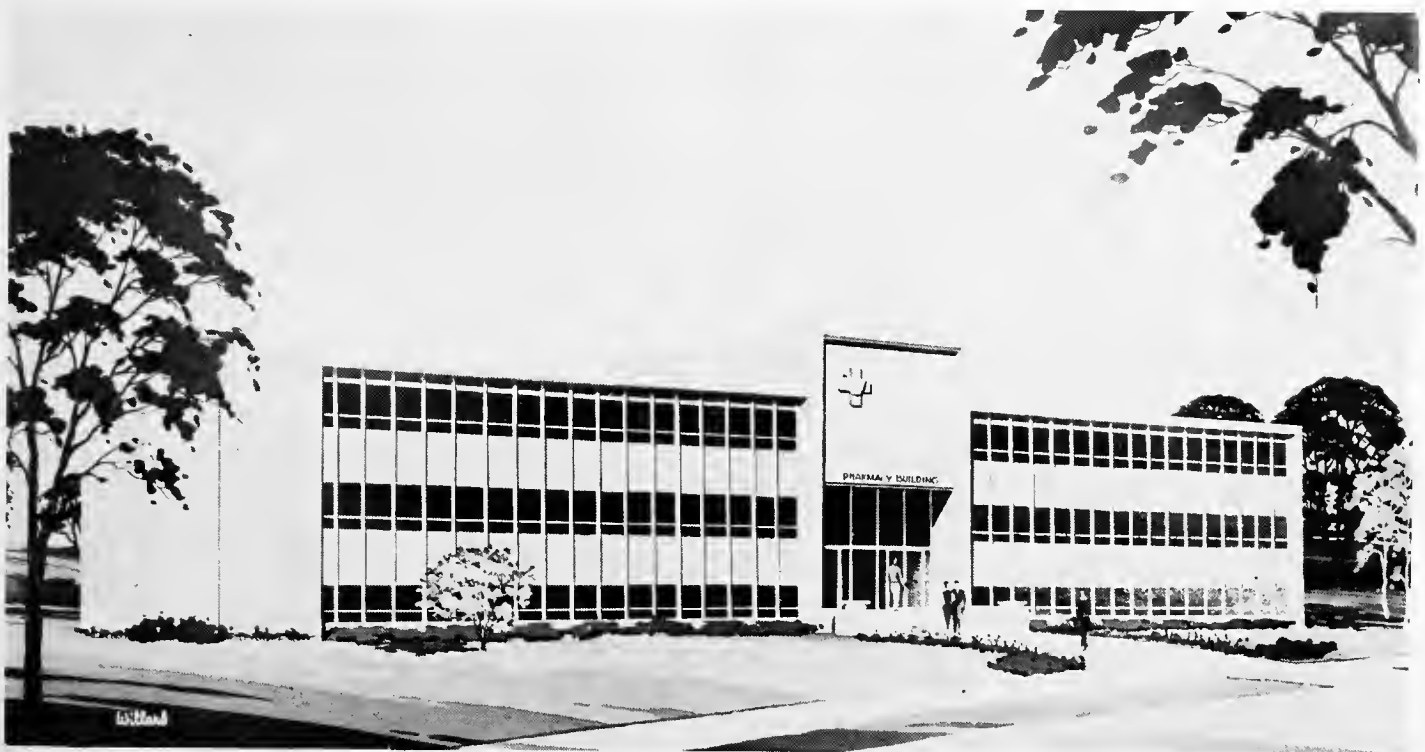

- the inclusion of the Kansas City Art Institute as an integral part of the University
- The establishment of a more thorough inter-collegiate sports program
- the institution of a local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board
- a University School of Medicine, to be established in cooperation with Menorah Hospital
- local branches of ROTC and NROTC
- an increase in the number of national fraternities and sororities on campus

- a closer liason between the University and the Midwest Research Institute
- a more comprehensive graduate program, with advanced degrees and substantial fellowships offered in all departments
- more complete and modernized laboratory and library facilities
- an increase in the amount of dormitory space, thereby providing an attraction for more out-of-town students
- provisions made for noted speakers, technicians, authors, and actors to visit the campus
- an expansion of the highly-qualified faculty and administration
- local philanthropists giving as freely to this University as to neighboring institutions and perhaps most of all, we anticipate the day when

- the University will receive as high regard in her own community as that she has already gained in regional and national scholastic circles.

These pages, while recording the events of the 1959-60 year, also look ahead at the potential achievement and development of the University of Kansas City. With the sturdy and unfailing support of her community and her former students, the future of this institution is unlimited. This book is dedicated to that future.

FOREWORD

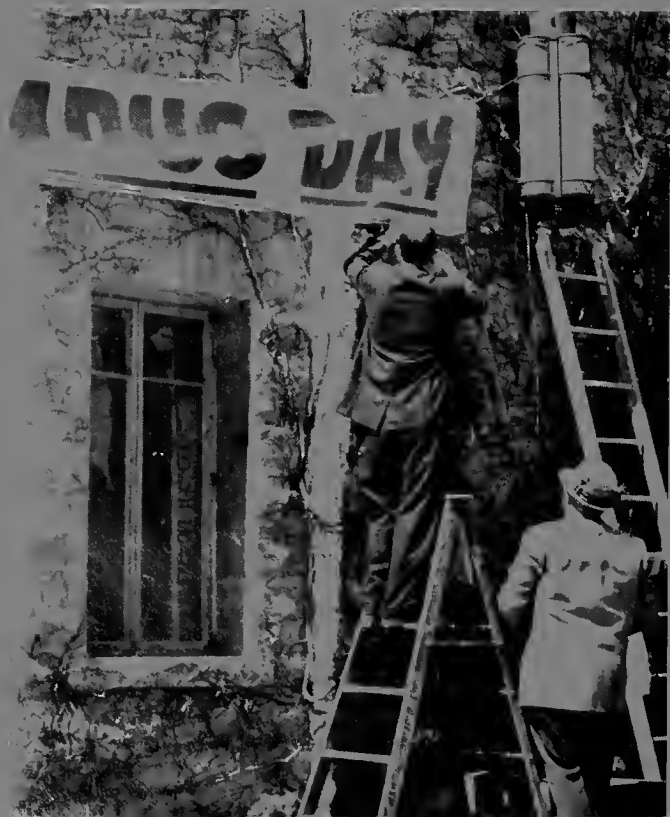

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY?

THE QUESTION has been answered emotionally, humorously, nostalgically, bitterly, critically, by Abelard, Mencken, Charlemagne, Emerson, Jones, each in his own memorable way. It has summoned up sweater-clad couples on a green quadrangle, cool corridors with lettered plaques, not so cool class rooms with chalk marks on the professor's bottomsides, dances and hidden bottles, the waving pennons of a crowd, libraries and whispered voices; these are images evoked by balding alumni as beacons of lost youth. But they are sensuous impressions: a human congress is more than stone.

It seems, in a day when each man must take upon himself the salvation of the race (perhaps it has always been this way), that a more weighty question must precede the title: what is education? If we accept the Greek ideal, it is a unity of intellectual and physical growth, in which man's being is no longer dichotomized. It follows that education is the process by which man is stimulated to investigate his powers and by doing so, to increase them.

The university, a miniature community containing its own conflicts, the challenge of other intellects, the grateful eagerness of studies, the discipline of a life at once physically confined and spiritually infinite, is an institution with potential for the task of reconciling the human spirit with natural forces. Few of us have the mental discipline to absorb and use the bodies of knowledge we encounter, but within the structure of a university we are given the opportunity to try to do so. Within a university, bibliophiles, artists, logicians gather to create an intellectual climate in which we encounter forces that produce the highest experiences possible, in at once a selective and comprehensive sense.

It is not until the university is left behind that we realize what intellectual bonds we share with our colleagues; that atmosphere can never be recaptured in the variegated world we think of, in the interim, as the "outside." The memories we carry into another world are not frivolous; they are the catalyst which will shape the universe into which we reach. The university is the realm of vision, but meant to be transmitted, through the training of capabilities, to a reality extending to infinity. What we discover here, the truth of man's relationship to man, becomes the tangible force of mankind in a Promethean challenge to destiny. We can only surmise the weight to be placed upon us because of our university experiences, but we grow, exchanging strength for strength, in preparation.

Since the conception of the Lyceum, students have been the agitators, the progressive element; under oppression they have fought for freedom; with the tools of the enlightened mind they have resisted tyrannies of every sort and in every age. Our greatest danger lies in complacency. Like the orient poet of the poets, the value of a university is partly its unity. It is sustained by the quality of the knowledge which can be attained in no other way by so many seekers. A center of broad awareness as of letters, no longer an ivory tower unconnected with contemporary problems, the university has become almost a solitary venture for understanding in the midst of a chaotic civilization. It is the extension of the venture which we undertake.

BERNARD

Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages and Literatures

PRIOR TO coming to the University in 1957, Dr. Bernard received his B.S. (1940), and his M.A. (1941) from Columbia University, and his Ph.D. (1949) from the University of Minnesota. We quote from a statement by Dr. William Crain, chairman of the languages department: "The University was fortunate in having in Dr. Bernard a man for whom German was a native language, and a man who, through years of study and teaching in this country, was well acquainted with the American student." Dr. Bernard was a brilliant man and a scholar whose thirst for knowledge never ceased. The memory of his gentle manner and his constant desire to fulfill the responsibilities of his profession will keep him forever alive in the hearts of those who were privileged to have known him.

AMONG memories of this school year are those of our friends who are no longer with us. Their presence in our classes and informal groups has been an inspiring and stimulating experience. Though gone, they will not be forgotten. In our education in living, they will provide an example which those of us who remain should be privileged to follow.

JOHN CIARDI, who began his career at UKC, read his prize-winning poetry and talked about literary traditions at a coffee on October 8. He expressed tolerant views on "Beat" poetry, but perhaps he was being kind.

PHILLIP HANSEN, a member of the respected Oregon Shakespeare Festival, interpreted Shakespearean characters in a series of dialogues with himself. He appeared January 14.

DON EMLER, UKC student, was invited to New York by the National Association of Manufacturers to attend the annual Congress of American Industry with 200 other stand-out students from other parts of the nation.

DR. KURT VON SCHUSCHIGG, former prime minister of Austria, visited the University on February 15 to initiate a series of lectures on international affairs. His subject was "Divided Europe."

DR. LINUS PAULING, Nobel Prize winner for chemistry in 1954, discussed "Science in the Modern World" at the Playhouse on March 30. Space-age interest in science is indicated by the fact that large numbers of students were turned away at the door because of the over-flow crowd.

LADY MARGARET D'ARCY presented her opinion on the growth of the American dialect at the progeny of English language spoken in Great Britain, her country. Her lecture of April 5 was titled, "The Bridge of Words." Dr. William Ryan, UKC language authority, found her talk interesting.

KENNETH REXROTH, erstwhile pater familias of the "Beat" movement in literature, lectured on April 30. He explained his reasons for breaking with Jack (On The Road) Kerorac and the "Beatniks."

DR. JOHN E. BARNETT, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, announced his resignation before the faculty on March 21. The resignation, which is to take effect June 5, will mark the end of Dean Barnett's nineteen-year association with the University. He will be missed by students and faculty alike.

UNIVERSITY CENTER

BOB HANDY

Director of the University Center

SOMETHING important is happening to the University this year. Forces shaped by necessity have been stirred to action, have culminated into one massive, still growing movement that impinges upon the sensibilities of the University, and while the full impact of this invisible force lies in the future, the students, faculty and administration slowly, almost imperceptibly, feel the pressure mounting, perceptively feel pleasurable pains of birth, and do not mind the weight.

From the conception to the creation, an abstract notion to concrete being—there are blueprints, sketches, a student committee, a director, and a hole in the ground—the infant University Center, now exists. Birth has not been easy. The embryonic idea, like a vehicle moving down mud-mixed roads, has had spurts of rapid motion and periods of ineffectual struggle against containing elements; but now, powered by its own momentum, steady progress will be made towards completion.

PRIVATE DINING ROOM

CAFETERIA DINING AREA

The usual question—how much does the baby weigh? What color eyes? etc.—need to be answered. The ultra modern structure, unlike any current University building, is scheduled to be completed by Spring, 1961. The Center, designed by Hardy and Schumacher, architects, situated on the hill north of

Student Chairman, University Center Committee

MUSIC ROOM

Swinney Gymnasium, is being constructed of chipped granite, natural stone and brick. Some of the facilities: a private dining room for dinner meetings, a snack bar, cafeteria, lounge, two music rooms, art gallery, a browsing library, a craft and poster shop, darkrooms, and play rooms. Future plans call for a large ballroom, swimming pool, auditorium, practice room, party room, chapel, and student organization rooms. The Center will not remain an infant, but will grow with the needs of an expanding University. Bob Handy, Director of the University Center, believes, "the Center will be a laboratory of student management and self expression." The activities program of the Center will be planned and directed by a program council selected in terms of a merit system.

There will be birth traumas. The Federal Government under a Student Union Loan program, advanced the funds for construction and furnishings of the Center, and the loan will have to be repaid by University of Kansas City students. The method of raising funds for the loan repayment will be determined after the Center is operating, and will be contingent on many factors. If students enthusiastically utilize the facilities available, the small profits realized may well provide the money for the reserve fund and rate problem. The assessment of a "Center fee" may be needed, but when the students realize the enormous benefits of the Center, such a fee will become incidental; rather, a service charge will enhance the value of the Center and a "Country Club" atmosphere will prevail. Certainly the plush interior, and strikingly modern exterior will equal any private club design.

Areas of student activities that have been restricted in past years because of inadequate facilities, will be open for students. Billiard tournaments, ski trips, international student mixers, foreign tours, photographic contests, and similar activities will become common place.

The University Center symbolically reflects the dynamic, progressive thinking of Administrative officials in their design for a major University. Edward W. Tanner, Chairman of Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Board of Trustees, said when he signed the $1,092,000 construction contract, "This is a momentous occasion. It is almost inconceivable to think of a University without a student Center to take care of the thousand-and-one things the students need and deserve." Not only will the Center fill the needs of the student body, but the metropolitan area in general will benefit from such a structure. The community attitude towards the University may well be shaped by the new Center, and increased enrollment, a necessity if the University is to grow, may be stimulated by the modern, functional structure.

LOBBY

SNACK BAR

The University Center, engendered from an idea to a hole in the ground, will in time, become the most important individual building on campus. This is not to say that the University should or would substitute excellence in social activities for excellence in academic achievements, but, if the University is to endure, there must be growth in all areas, and there must be outward signs of this growth. If students are to acquire a hydrophytic thirst for knowledge, if the University is to be Promethean in spirit, there must be incentives manifest in the University structure that excite the intellect and senses. The Center, emblematic of the University's future, constitutes part of the stimulus.

Seniors, graduating in June, will not see the completion of the structure in their University experiences, but they are part of the Center because they have felt the stirrings of birth.

IN THE BEGINNING Some beer cans, rusty nails, packing crates, burning the campus wilderness. The Nelson Gallery peeks over the trees and bushes.

THEN CAME THE MACHINES and the men and they dug a hole. Snow fell and made a lake that had to be pumped out. And the hole was dug deeper and they started to build.

WHEN THE BUILDING IS FINISHED the hole will be filled with the University Center and there will be life there.

THE CHANCELLOR

RICHARD M. DRAKE
Chancellor

HAMILTON G. W. ROBINSON, Dean of the Dental School and Chancellor Richard M. Drake chat with Ethel Jane King, Wichita TV personality, on the "Open House" program aired over KAKE-TV, Wichita. Chancellor Drake and Dean Robinson were in Wichita at the organization meeting of the UKC Alumni club of Wichita.

THE SOUND OF BULLDOZERS outside the gymnasium has become a welcome symbol this year of the new emphasis which your University is placing on student life.

The deans and directors who make up this year's Administrative Council have increased the interchange of ideas between students and administrators, a mutually stimulating procedure.

The new University Center administrator has found students exceedingly cooperative. The Vice-Chancellor for Academic and Business Affairs has discovered that students are deeply interested in the "blueprint of the future" and that they can make helpful suggestions toward The University's growth.

Students in the Law and Business Schools have taken on new responsibilities in directing their own affairs. Conservatory students have shown interest in the revived convocations program, and the Volker campus convocations have also met student approval. Dentistry students have evidenced interest in the building program by a sizable gift from the second-year class. Pharmacy students were notable in their efforts toward the student-sponsored carnival benefiting the athletic program. Student support of the Education School's Career Day and of the all-University Campus Day has been most helpful in our recruitment work this year.

Throughout The University new academic and development programs are in progress. Your University is moving ahead. The administration is extremely proud of The University's students. What we do has as its underlying purpose the betterment of the education that The University can offer to you. The University's most valued assets.

VICE-CHANCELLOR

Vice-Chancellor for Academic and Business Affairs

SINCE his appointment on September 1, 1959, Dr. Ted Brannen, former dean of the School of Business Administration, has demonstrated the type of administrative ability and vigor that are necessary in the functioning of his office. His duties include supervising curriculum standards, academic budgets and courses of instruction, acting as liaison between the Chancellor's office and the faculty deans and co-ordinating University fiscal affairs, both plant and personnel.

ROBERT E. NELSON

Vice-Chancellor for Development

AFTER serving a year with the University as Assistant to the Chancellor for Development, Mr. Nelson became the Vice-Chancellor on September 1, 1959. His many years of experience in the field of college and university public relations assure his success in the performance of duties essential to future development. It is Mr. Nelson's job to direct and co-ordinate public communications and alumni relations, fund raising projects, special events and the offices of publicity and publications.

In a position which requires tact, wisdom and sympathy Dean Bloch can be counted on to exercise all three in the performance of his many and varied duties.

GEORGE FENCIL

Director, Student Placement

AS MANY University students will agree, George Fencil and the Placement Bureau have played an important part in the success of their college life. It has been his sympathetic guidance and active concern for the welfare of the student that has made him so successful in finding part-time and full-time employment for all those who have sought his help.

A UNIVERSITY COULD NOT EXIST without text-books, writing implements, and materials to write on. Knowledge must be recorded if it is to be cumulative and useful. Because of this, a university book store is an integral part of the university structure. Oftentimes, the academic caliber of the university is reflected in the quality of the campus situated bookstore, so it is most important to the university to maintain the sort of bookstore that functions organically to provide students with the essential tools necessary for intellectual and cultural development.

JOHN E. BARNETT, Dean

AS HEAD of the University's largest school, Dean John Barnett has proven himself to be an able administrator as well as an interested friend since his appointment to the position in 1954. His office is always open to the student for consultation on an academic problem or for a friendly visit and registration day finds him ready to smooth out any problems which stand in the students' way in their acquisition of the well-balanced education offered by the school.

John Barnett brings to his job eight years of experience as lecturer in the English Department and Assistant Dean of the University. Prior to joining the faculty in 1946, he served as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Navy. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Harvard in 1928, his Masters in 1932 and his Ph.D. in 1933.

The University and the College of Arts and Science are fortunate to have in Dean Barnett a man so uniquely qualified to guide their future growth in the same exceptional manner that has marked their guidance in the past.

DEPARTMENTAL CLUBS

STUDENTS (comfortable in the informal atmosphere of a private home for literary, economical, political, aesthetic, philosophical discussions, in the laboratories learning refined techniques and methods, on the stage perfecting an art, in the fields pursuing peculiar predilections, touring business establishments for insights into merchandising) have joined together to explore areas of common interest and to gain that something extra missing from the formality of the classroom. Departmental Clubs implement the learning process pleasantly.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

THE MEETINGS OF DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN, held monthly, are devoted to the appreciation of the history, music, art, poetry, and literature of the German people. Some of the activities included colored sound films, playing host to Die Hohnsteiner Puppenspieler, and an Apfelkuchen Beoth at the Winter Carnival.

Der Deutsche Verein was fortunate to have had the friendship, guidance and inspiration of the late Dr. Rudolph K. Bernard who helped to better appreciate and understand the German culture. During the second semester, Wolfgang Neuschaffer was the advisor.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

JOHN B. RUSHMER

SINCE its establishment five years ago, the School of Business has grown steadily in both quality and quantity and has taken its place in the community as an important source of trained personnel for area businesses.

This year the University was very fortunate to acquire as Dean of the second youngest school on campus John B. Rushmer whose background in private industry will prove invaluable in the task of producing the type of graduate that our modern industrial society needs.

Dean Rushmer is a native of San Francisco and studied at the University of California. Following his graduation, he attended the University of New York for graduate work. As co-ordinator of training, employment, communications and management studies for the International Petroleum Company, Ltd., an affiliate of the Standard Oil Company, Dean Rushmer has shown himself to be an administrator of proven capabilities who will bring to the School of Business Administration a depth of understanding of the training necessary for success in commerce and industry.

NU RHO PSI, professional business fraternity, has as its purpose the furthering of business education. In accordance with this purpose, Nu Rho Psi awards each year a $100 scholarship to a member of the fraternity. Funds for the scholarship are earned by the fraternity at the Nu Rho Psi car wash on Bum Friday.

This year the scholarship was renamed the Ray Smith Scholarship in honor of the professor of accounting who has served as fraternity advisor for the past several years. At the Nu Rho Psi Christmas party Mr. Smith and his wife were presented a silver serving platter engraved with his name and the name of the scholarship.

As a service to business students and to prospective employers, Nu Rho Psi published the 1959 Employment Brochure. It contained background information and photographs of business and economics majors, and was circulated to about 1,000 business firms in the greater Kansas City area.

RETAIL ASSOCIATES

Bill Austin, President

Brooks Terry, Vice-President

Mike Conrad, Secretary

Dave Hoff, Treasurer

THE RETAIL ASSOCIATES ORGANIZATION is composed of students interested in retailing and merchandising and their interests bring them in close propinquity with area businessmen. The organization encourages their members to participate in Business School activities and promote the school in the business world.

During the year the Retail Associates sponsored a number of speakers on campus and toured local business establishments. An outstanding activity of the year was the Merchant's Luncheon when the students met with store presidents and other key executives.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

HAMILTON B. G. ROBINSON

DR. HAMILTON G. ROBINSON is completing his second year as dean of the School of Dentistry. In this time he has become known as a strong advocate for the early construction of the proposed Dental Center at 51st and Rockhill Road. During his tenure as dean over $700,000 has been pledged by dental alumni toward the $1,600,000 needed to begin work on the new center.

Early in the year, Dr. Robinson was one of two educators to receive honorary membership in the Federation Dentaire National, The French National Dental Society. Dean Robinson is a member of Sigma Xi Honorary Society and the International Association for Dental Research. He is past president of the Academy of Oral Pathology and of the American Board of Oral Pathology.

Dr. Robinson received his M.S. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1931 and D.D.S. in 1943.

NORMAN A. MOORE

FORTY YEARS AGO Norman August Moore came to the Kansas City-Western Dental College as a student. This year Dr. Moore will retire after 32 years on the faculty of the School of Dentistry. In the intervening years in Kansas City, in which he taught the basic sciences to students of dentistry. Dr. Moore has seen the founding of the University of Kansas City, the union of the University with the Dental College, and their combined growth.

Upon his retirement we regret the passing of an era. Dr. Moore has witnessed the start of the building process of the University. Sometime in the future the School of Dentistry will be relocated adjoining the Volker Campus. Dr. Moore will not be an active participant in its creation, but the work he has done in the past will be remembered as a part of the foundations which made the new Dental Center possible.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

DEAN HUGH W. SPEER

DR. HUGH W. SPEER has been dean of the School of Education since its organization as a separate school in 1954. The Gothic old mansion at Fifty-second and Cherry housed for the third year a dynamic, forward moving group of people who under the leadership of Dean Speer have brought distinction and credit to the University. Dr. Speer came to the University of Kansas City in 1945 and became chairman of the Department of Education in 1948. Under his capable guidance the department has grown from a Department into a separate school which offers the Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor's degrees. Dean Speer's experience in the field of education has been quite varied: he was a public school administrator for ten years prior to World War II, directed the Veterans Advisement Center at UKS, served as principal of High Schools in Fredonia and Hays, Kansas, lecturer at the University of Tehran, and advisor to the Minister of Education on curriculum as a Fulbright Scholar in Iran. The author of numerous articles in Educational Journals, he is listed in Who's Who in America, Leaders in Education, and Who's Who in American Education. Dean Speer is married and the father of two daughters.

FORD FOUNDATION GRANT

A GRANT OF $625,000 has been made by the Ford Foundation for new programs of study in the School of Education. It is the largest of eight teacher-education grants to the country's colleges and universities.

The grant is to be used toward an expanded program for the preparation of elementary and high school teachers on the undergraduate and the graduate level, Chancellor Richard Drake said. The money will be utilized over a 5-year period and will go toward additional courses, faculty, staff and facilities in the School of Education. Dr. Hugh W. Speer, dean of the School of Education, will be in charge of the program. Chancellor Drake said that the university expects to be able to accept beginning students in the program for the fall semester of 1960, and should have the program in full operation by the fall of 1961.

The current grants totaling $2,761,250 by the Ford Foundation are part of a series of gifts now totaling 18.2-million to 27 schools and were begun by the Foundation last year to help advance what it terms a national "breakthrough" in the education of teachers.

Epperson House is the scene of many campus dances.

Other institutions receiving the present grants: Kansas State University, $179,000 toward a master of arts program for secondary school teachers; Northwestern University, $325,000; Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt., $111,500; Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C., $430,000; Notre Dame, $410,750; Oberlin College, $190,000, and the University of Pittsburgh, $490,000.

The comprehensive UKC program was prepared by the School of Education after consultation with the College of Arts and Sciences of the University. Chancellor Drake submitted the program to the Foundation last October in New York.

The program calls for close cooperation among the public school systems of the area, the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Education. "The evidence of such existing cooperation was an important factor in the Ford Foundation's decision to make the money available to the University," Dr. Drake said.

John A. Morgan, chairman of the UKC Board of Trustees, said: "This generous grant marks a significant step in the development of the University and will help us make progressively great contributions to education at all levels in this community."

The School of Education assisted in construction of the American Royal Float.

EPPERSON HOUSE, the home of the School of Education, is the scene of many receptions and teas such as this throughout the year.

HIGH SCHOOL

Snow Brite and the Seven Doors.

The Seven Dwarfs.

TO THE THEME OF "KEYS TO CAREERS," Education School students introduced area high schoolers and college underclassmen to the advantages, benefits, and difficulties of teaching as a profession.

The 1960 high school day program was sponsored by the School of Education Student Council with President Linda Zeligman as chairman. There were over 300 guests in attendance despite a postponement because of record March snowfall.

Instructive sessions presented ideas concerning new trends in teaching and group discussions about elementary education and specific fields of secondary education.

Judy Bell and Eileen Senter collaborated in writing and directing a skit, "The Big Story," for the program. An unexpected dramatic highlight occurred when a very young actress, imported from Barstow School, forgot her lines, quickly resorted to tears, and was comforted by "Snow Brite."

Ruth Ann Lancaster was Snow Brite.

A HISTORIC MOMENT on Friday, December 4, in Division No. 9 in the Circuit Court, Jackson County, Missouri as a request for the incorporation of the Law Alumni Foundation of the University of Kansas City is presented to Judge Ben Terte by (left to right) Foundation Vice-President James W. Benjamin (also President of the Alumni Association), Paul E. Bindley (one of the founders), Chancellor Richard M. Drake, and the President of the Foundation, Ben W. Swofford.

"YOUR HONOR, I have a report, as Amicus Curiae, In the Matter of the Incorporation of The Law Alumni Foundation of The University of Kansas City." These words initiated the official procedure necessary to the incorporation of the long awaited Law Alumni Foundation of The University of Kansas City. The incorporation took place in the offices of Honorable Ben Terte, Judge of Division No. 9 of the Circuit Court of Jackson County, Missouri, on Friday, December 4, 1959.

Chancellor Richard M. Drake stated, "I would like to say, for the record, that I am very enthusiastic and very much impressed with the interest of this group, as shown in trying to assist The University in developing an outstanding Law School."

Dr. Frederick Lewis, Dean of the School of Law, said, "I would like to speak on behalf of myself and my faculty, and to assure to Your Honor and the Foundation and those assembled here the complete cooperation, the enthusiasm, and our untiring efforts to build for this community and for The University and for our alumni, a Law School that will go on record as one of the truly great Law Schools of the country, and in one of the truly great Universities in the country.

Judge Terte granted the decree and approved the report of Amicus Curiae.

The first alumni to be elected to office were President, Ben W. Swofford, L '33; Vice-President, James W. Benjamin, L '49; Secretary, Norman O. Besheer, L '55; Treasurer, Roland V. Petering, L '35. Among the 110 endorsers of the Foundation are listed Chrales E. Whittaker, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States and Harry S. Truman, former President of the United States.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

DEAN, SCHOOL OF MUSIC

DR. ARCHIE N. JONES

THE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC OF KANSAS CITY became the Conservatory of Music of the University of Kansas City in the summer of 1959. Dr. Richard M. Drake, UKC Chancellor, and Lyle Kennedy, acting director of the Conservatory, announced the merger early in June.

Under the ten-year plan which went into effect on September 1, 1959, the Conservatory will maintain its corporate existence and a board of trustees during the full term. At the end of the ten years the agreement may be renewed at the discretion of the University.

Degrees to be granted by the Conservatory as a division of UKC will be on both the Bachelor's and Master's level; the professional degrees now granted by the Conservatory (B.M., B.M.E., M.M.) will be continued. Students seeking degrees at the Conservatory will be admitted on the basis of established University of Kansas City admission requirements.

Dr. Archie N. Jones has been appointed Dean of this latest addition to the University. He is past president of the Southwestern Division of the Music Educators National Conference, and is the author of more than 100 magazine articles, six text books, and composer of numerous choral compositions. Dr. Jones is listed in Who's Who in Music and in the monthly supplement of Who's Who in America.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

AMONG THE MANY THINGS that make a University great, perhaps the most significant is the maturity with which the students conduct their governmental affairs. At UKC, students themselves determine what activities they shall participate in, and what the policy of their government shall be. Outstanding achievements of this year's government were the Student Congress in Excelsior Springs, and the drastic revision of the Council's constitution. In line with traditions of long standing, the various student government assemblies try to work closely with the administration and faculty to promote an efficient and socially and academically beneficial form of government.

THE KANGAROO

EDITOR

Richard McFaddin

MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR

TO SYMBOLIZE THE EXPANDING UNIVERSITY, the dimensions of the 1960 Kangaroo have been changed this year, and we trust that the quality, if not better, has not suffered from the "new look." It was necessary to increase the number of pages to encompass the newly integrated School of Music, to spot-light individual schools, and to give the senior class the sort of coverage they deserve. Surprisingly, the cost of the book this year has been far less than in other years, and this despite the increases in paper, printing costs, and the increase in size.

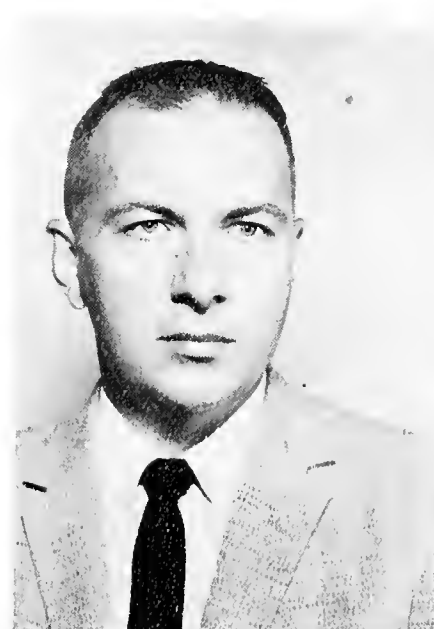

The staff has diligently worked to give you the sort of yearbook that reflects all areas of the university and we feel that we have succeeded. Waymon Elledge, Nancy Osterstrom, and Don Smith have devoted more than time to the Kangaroo; they have given intelligence, patience, understanding, and craftsmanship. Wally Smith is responsible, not only for the dental ads, but he also served as photographer and liaison between the Kangaroo and the Dental School. Don Mansford, editor from the School of Law, has secured ads, arranged for photo schedules, identified pictures, and in other ways has made his services available. Cynthia Edeleman and Carolyn Smith have written copy when help was seriously needed. Mike Conrad sacrificed his time to take difficult pictures. The complete staff has been hard working. We sincerely want you to be pleased with the 1960 Kangaroo.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Mike Conrad

Mike is graduating this year and his services will be missed. He has been associated with the Student Publications all of his undergraduate years, and his photographs leave an indelible impression.

David Natharius

This is Dave's first year on the Publications staff. He came to the University from four years Air Force duty as a photographer. Many of the U-News photographs reflect his talents.

Ira Slough

Ira is a freshman in the School of Pharmacy, and we expect much from him in the next few years. He is a valuable asset to any publications staff.

Wally Smith

Wally is responsible for all Dental School pictures used in the Kangaroo this year. The editor is indebted to him.

U-NEWS

Editor, Patricia D. Williams

UNDER PAT'S LEADERSHIP, the U-News operations for 1959-60 have been efficient, comprehensive, and financially sound. Jim James, business manager, has provided the paper with enough advertising revenue to balance the budget. Marshall Saper, assistant editor, has been errand boy, editorial writer, feature writer (his Atop The Ant Hill is laughable), and he has been responsible for scheduling assignments. Carolyn Smith, assistant editor, replaced Fred Wilkens who resigned after the first semester, and she too has been a key member of the staff. Not only has she given so much of her time and talents to the U-News, but generously, she has written copy for the Kangaroo. Pat of course is responsible for the success of each issue. In her quiet, unobtrusive manner, she has organized, supervised, and the quality of the 1959-60 U-News reflects her abilities. Because the U-News and the Kangaroo share the same facilities, there has often been friction in past years: this year there was none. It was as if staff members of the paper were never around.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

ESTABLISHED ON THE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS IN 1955, Omicron Delta Kappa, Men's National Honorary Fraternity, has assumed a place of leadership among local progressives interested in the future of the University. While grade point average is a prerequisite for membership, participation in extra-curricular activities is a significant requirement. The purpose of the organization is to recognize men for outstanding work in activities, to bring together men from all phases of college life and to bring together members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

SERVICE TO THE STUDENT BODY AND FACULTY, service to the fraternity, and service to the community has enabled the members of Alpha Phi Omega to give over 450 man hours of service this year.

The highlight of the year was the Ugly Man on Campus contest climaxed by the Beauty and the Beast Dance. Dick Shoemaker was the Ugly Man and Lynn Thompson was the Beauty. The charity drive raised $350.00 for the Missouri School No. 9 for Retarded Children.

"Being Busy In Service" was the watchword of

A.P.O. as the members helped in New Student Orientation, the United Funds Drive, ushering for various campus events, selling Number One, and giving the Campus Citizenship Award.

Alpha Eta Chapter received a certificate from its National Office for 25 years of service. Don Emler received the Whitaker Award for Service and Ed Cooper was the best pledge. The building of traditions was a major project this year and the Seasoned Eaters, people who loved the art of eating, was organized. Also the patron saint of Alpha Eta Chapter, Sir Cedric B. Rust, was conceived on a dark snowy evening. As a member in good standing he is on both social and scholastic probation, but he still won the spring elections for the Student Council's House of Lords.

DON EMLER WON THE FIRST ANNUAL AWARD for the most outstanding student citizen of the University of Kansas City. Not only has Don shown competent leadership, unselfish willingness to aid others with academic and social problems, a high degree of character, and enthusiastic participation in student activities, he has managed to maintain a high level of scholarship.

THE ALPHA EPSILON PI FRATERNITY was one of the original three national social fraternities founded at the University of Kansas City. The purpose of the fraternity is the furthering of the social education of the student. The highlight of this year's social calendar was the New Year's Eve party held at the Twin Oaks banquet room. A MU weekend was another A E Pi social event.

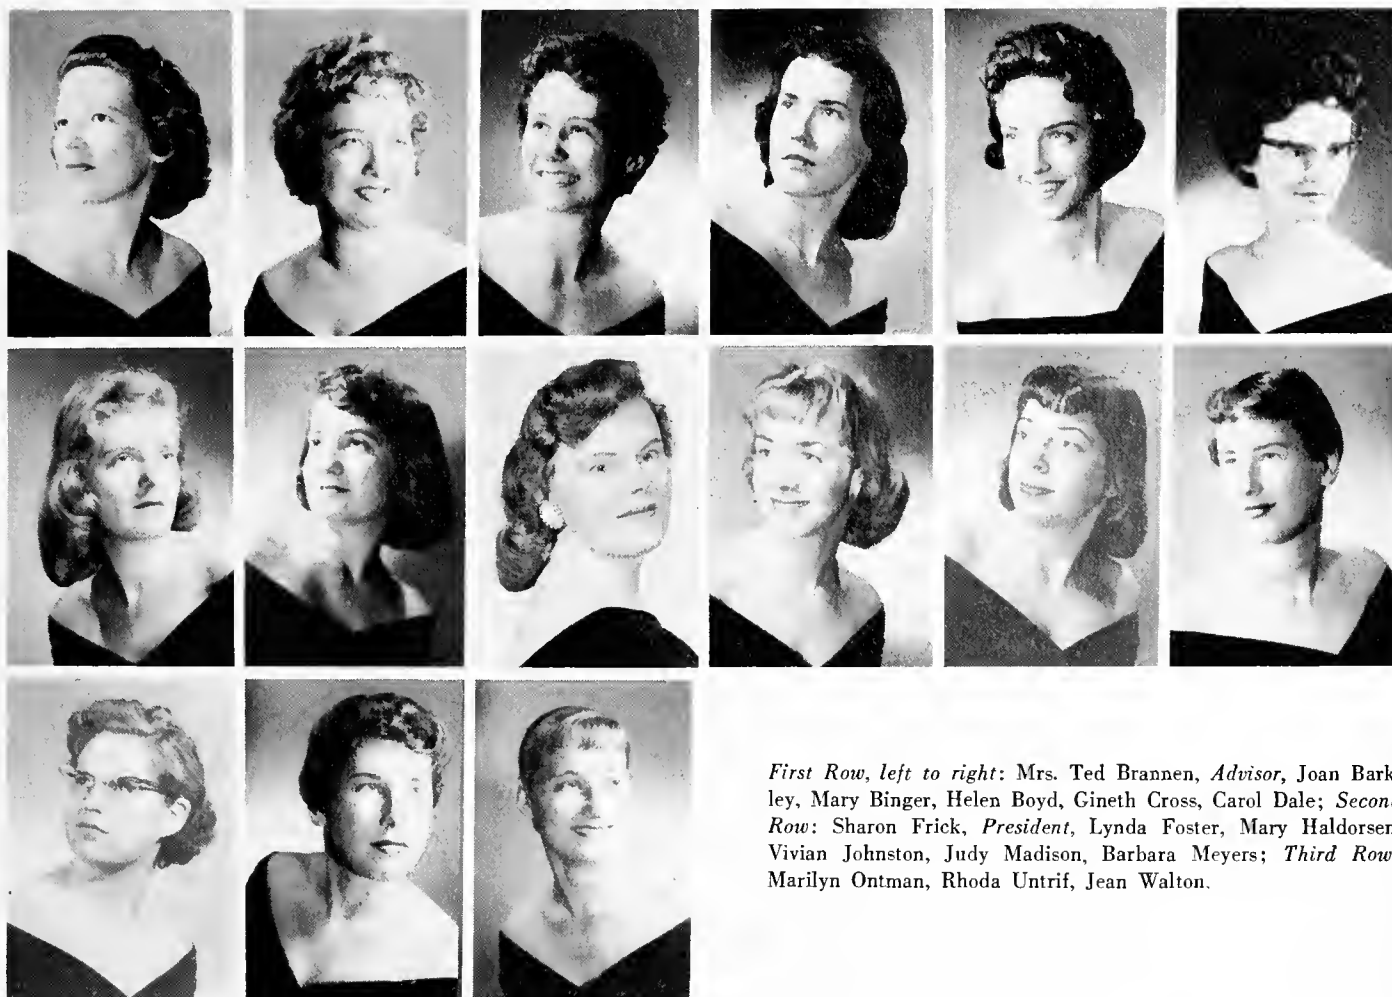

Alpha Epsilon Pi members did service work at the Home for the Jewish Aged.

BETA ZETA SORORITY was founded on the University campus in 1935 by Delta Gamma National Sorority. Working in close association with their Alumnae Chapter, Beta Zeta endeavors to create a friendly environment in which each girl has an opportunity to develop her potentials in leadership and to form lasting friendships.

This year the campus activities of the sorority's members have included participation in Pan-Hellenic Council, U-News, Choir, religious and departmental clubs and various social functions. The BZs supported candidates for ugly man and most fascinating man. Other events included the annual mother-daughter tea, pledge banquet, Christmas party, and Alumnae Reception. With the help of their dynamic advisor, Mrs. Ted Brannen, it has been a busy and worth-while year for Beta Zeta.

FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS, the Cho Chins have grown in number and reputation on The UKC campus. During this time, many events have fashioned themselves into traditions which are anticipated by every member. Leadership and responsibility are typical assets of this organization. This year saw the Cho Chins as presidents of Pep Club, Wesleyan Fellowship, with important offices in TNT, Phi Mu Alpha, and other groups. Other activities included Cho Chins as cheerleaders, Student Council officers, student admissions counselors, co-chairmen of Orientation, hostesses to visiting groups on campus, and initiators of various firsts such as the Film Society, Vice-Chancellor's coffees, and many others.

The Cho Chins were victorious at the first annual Winter Carnival winning second place in the booth competition and being elected Winter Carnival Queen. The Beauty and the Beast Dance saw a Cho Chin crowned Beauty and their candidate, Dick Shoemaker, chosen Beast. Outside activities included the Valentine's Party, with Terry Laidley as Sweetheart, Mother-Daughter Tea, Spring Formal, and the annual trip to the Ozarks. Benevolence was expressed by donations to charities and caroling at Christmas.

These expressions of ability and leadership lend themselves as providing the organization worthy of being a national group. This eventful year will forever ring in the hearts of the members as dear Cho Chin, sweet memories remain.

DELTA CHI

DELTA CHI FRATERNITY was founded on October 13, 1890 at Cornell University to promote brotherhood among college men. The University of Kansas City chapter has moved forward in all areas of endeavor since its establishment four years ago. Delta Chi's pledge class had a first semester grade point average of 1.99 and in 1959 the fraternity won the men's intramural trophy. Not only has the chapter provided leaders for all phases of campus life, but their "Pair-O-Dice" dance with related activities was well attended by Delta Chis and other students.

FOUNDED IN 1934 AS A SISTER SOCIETY to the VVV's at Junior College, Sigma Beta has since grown to become one of the largest social groups on campus. The purpose of Sigma Beta is to promote social activity among the women on the UKC campus and through its ideals of leadership, scholarship, sportsmanship and character to establish a lasting bond between its members. As shown below, the SBs sponsored John Galliher, and saw him win, as the Most Fascinating Man on campus. Other events on the Sigma Beta calendar included the Christmas Dance, held in Epperson House, and various service projects for the University such as furnishing ushers for the Playhouse productions and hostesses to visiting groups on campus.

TKE WAS FOUNDED IN 1899 and is one of the most rapidly growing fraternal societies in the nation. Epsilon Lambda chapter was installed at the University of Kansas City during the 1955-56 school year. Prior to that time the chapter was known as Tau Kappa Nu. This year the chapter participated actively in intramural athletics, school elections, and all social events. The successful year was highlighted by the most elaborate, annual Red Carnation Ball.

RED CARNATION BALL

TAU KAPPA EPSILON'S ANNUAL BALL was a closed affair this year, restricted to members only, and the university missed something. Tux and formals whirled around the ballroom of the Hotel Bellrive amid elaborate decorations, flowers and lovely ladies, and the music was danceable. Dr. King, Dr. Crain, and their wives were there to keep an eye on things, and Dr. King had only to raise his brow once. Perhaps next year TKE will let all of us in on the fun.

This is Heavenly.

Not everyone danced . . . every dance.

And then I told Chancellor Drake . . .

Next year we'll need a larger ballroom.

But Mike, we can't do that.

EVENTS

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

INEVITABLY it happens every fall. Orientation: that gay time when former students congregate in the shades of 143 varieties to orient each other as to summer exploits and conquests. But after relentless demands by Hogin and committee, these sacrificing students forsake the companionship of their fellows and dedicate themselves to the enlightenment of unoriented freshmen. With much arrogance, windy oratory, and primarily purposeful "eyeballing," the emissaries of all knowledge inform the recently deflated, but nonetheless eager (?) plebes of significant campus features: the handy garbage disposal (more correctly called The Pond), the ivy lifted from Patrick Henry's grave, and the pornographic, but interesting, niftie nudies. When it's all over, beneath many "thank yous," Don Emler and Judy Johnson, co-chairmen, can be overheard mumbling a vow which sounds very much like "never again . . ." while frosh and upper classmen drown their new-found confusion in the whirling gala of the first dance.

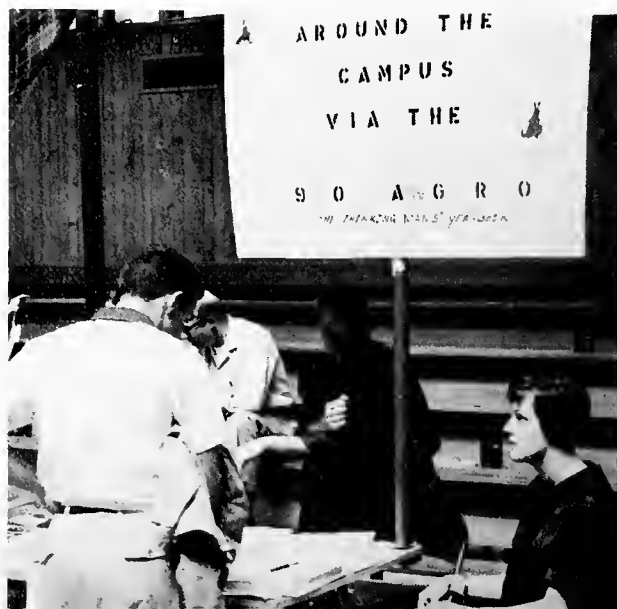

Top: JONES AND CONRAD BRAINWASH bewildered orientation group leaders. "Make them think you love your University."

Second from top: FRESHMEN SIGN UP for participation in organizations during an efficiently organized Activities in Action program.

Bottom: "FOR YOUR INFORMATION, Mr. Null, the University News is now under new management. We will kindly thank you to step aside, unless you could come down and empty wastebaskets every morning."

Below: NANCY OSTERSTROM SURVEYS a prospective KANGAROO staff member: handsome, single, "sign here . . . name . . . phone . . . free time . . ."

REGISTRATION

DESPITE the innovations of carbon paper, sharp pencils, alpha sequence numbers, and IBM machines, registration remains a foreboding and tedious chore of old and new students alike. From the moment Joe C. is refused a certification to enroll because of an unpaid book fee, to the moment he stumbles in a white daze from the photographer's booth, he is enthralled in a jungle of letters and figures (sorry, not that kind) formidable enough to force his retreat from the halls of learning. Oh well! We suppose the formality of registration is not too great a price to pay for nine months of coffee-drinking, card-playing, and bull-shooting; for, after all, the purpose of college life is to produce well-rounded individuals.

Top: "GREER, HONEY. G-R-E-E-R, Greer. G as in gilamster, R as in rhododendron, E as in . . . huh? Rhododendron? That's R as in Renaissance, H as in . . ."

Second from top: DON EMLER ADDS all his course code numbers, subtracts the total from his alpha sequence number to find the number of hours he needs to graduate in March.

Right: ". . . AND THAT'S WHEN THEY TOLD ME that Advanced Archery had already closed, and that all I could take was Intermediate Dancing 312. Now I ask you, do I look like an intermediate dancer?"

Bottom: "WHATDYA MEAN, my card seems to have jammed up the IBM machine? Now look lady . . ."

Below: OH THEM; they can smile all right. They get the dough. But him? What's with the grin. Scholarship, probably.

KANGAROO KAPERS & DANCE

AFTER a hectic week of perennial pandemonium, the 1959 fall orientation program roared to a spirited conclusion with the presentation of Kangaroo Kapers and the traditional first dance. Dark glasses, bongos and leotards were much in evidence at the Kapers where the popular beatnik theme dominated the new-student skits. But Harlan Livingston and his band disregarded the "beat" melancholia and provided a varied pace for the all-school dance which followed in the gym.

"... THE BEST MINDS of our generation ..."

I KNOW it's our first date, but, honey, we're in college now."

"WHAT'S THAT YOU SAY? Bob Neel ran his hand through a bongo drum?"

"WELL, IT'S BEEN THREE HOURS. Do you think it's too early to leave?"

"I THINK I should point out the anatomical impossibility of such a back-up, whirl, twist and kick in the female species."

HOMECOMING AT KCU introduced an innovation into the usual pattern of Homecoming festivities. Basketball was replaced by drama as alumni attended the Playhouse production of "Time Remembered."

All was not new, however, as alumni visited booth displays in the gymnasium, became reacquainted with old friends, were introduced to the conservatory campus, and ate a barbecue dinner on the Playhouse patio.

Also in the traditional homecoming style, a queen, Lynn Bush, was crowned and the winner of the booth display contest. Nu Rho Psi, was announced at the intermission of the Homecoming Halloween dance. George E. Hicks represented the alumni and Jess LaPuma the students as co-chairmen of Alumni Homecoming.

We won because like we're business.

WINTER

TRULY a lost weekend, the first annual Winter Carnival, in tribute to the Fightin' Kangies even brought out the Haag Hall bookworms. Patt Sherwood and Jack Null, Carnival Co-Chairmen, conceived, planned, and carried through the biggest winter social event ever held on campus. Pie-throwing, rat racing, kissing, dunking girls, joining the High Hat Club, dart throwing—all added up to a fun-filled Friday. Then on Saturday the Kangies trounced Graceland College, Sheilah Lewis became the first Carnival Queen, Nu Rho Psi won the trophy for the best booth, and the Cell Block Seven played like sixty. And Patt and Jack collapsed from exhaustion. But next year we'll have an athletic scholar!

Above: PROUD ACCOMPLISHMENT and sincere gratitude are expressed on the face of Sheilah Lewis, petite Queen of the first annual Winter Carnival.

CHARACTERISTIC of the whole Carnival weekend is this shot showing the libido-arousing Cell Blocks and libido-aroused dancers.

BEATNIKS Tom Jackson, Al Thomas, and Stan Dalen of the winning Nu Rho Psi booth seem pleased with booth profits.

"YOU MEAN Dean Bloch's face won me a coke?"

CARNIVAL

HEY, HONEY. C'mon an' see our show. Dandy-good fun, an' th' pop-corn's free." Penny Jennison adds an alluring come-on to the successful Player's booth.

WELL WE'RE BAFFLED TOO. The success of the Carnival gives Co-Chairman Jack Null no reason for the long face. Tired blood maybe.

"ANYTHING FOR THE TEAM and good ole Cho Chin!" Claudia Lowe packed 'em in the Dunk-a-booth.

"NAW, it isn't like gamblin', Fred. The rats don't have jockies." Kappa Psi's rat race was a natural.

TNT's Caricature Booth presented talent artists who sketched faces from the crowd.

LAW DANCE

THE ANNUAL LAW SCHOOL DANCE was held in the World War II Memorial Building and large numbers of students and faculty members attended. The music was quite good, danceable—Dean Lewis waltzes a mean cha-cha—and throughout the evening a warm comfortable atmosphere created by widespread party spirits and jollity prevailed. The dance committee is to be congratulated for a carefully planned and executed evening.

QUAD DANCE

"SHERWOOD FOREST"

FABLED Sherwood Forest came to life in the Roost November 21 as the Freshman Steering Committee sponsored an evening of fun and dancing that received the enthusiastic approval of 200 revelers. Couples cavorted in a forest setting complete with wishing well, medieval castle walls and wandering archers. Intermission saw the introduction of the freshmen representatives who were to guide the fortunes of the campus "young set" during 1959-60.

"I WONDER if it's safe to walk in the grass?"

ROYALL-TY INVADES the shady haunts of Sherwood Forest.

"STEP LIGHTLY NOW. We don't want to arouse suspicion."

"NOW WHERE do we go from here?"

PAIR - O - DICE

Top: NOW HOW'S THAT for a Real-Lemon!

IF THIS IS PARADISE, looks like we were pretty wrong about Adam and Eve.

HANG ON, FRED. Be a shame to swallow that stogie in all the excitement.

AS MAH OLE PAPPY USED TO SAY . . .

DEAN MARIOTT, Delta Chi Vice-President in charge of vice, marked the cards, loaded the dice, rigged the wheel, and imported dancing girls from "Frisco" for the gala reopening of the Pair-O-Dice Palace. The fast draw contest almost ended in disaster: "Sorry pardner, I didn't mean to shoot off your head." Sigma Beta girls kicked their legs in the chorus line—tall, strangers shouldered each other at the bar—shootin-irons blasted the tall strangers—horses stomped at the hitching post—ten-gallon hats were crushed in the sawdust—and the rugged West lived again in the Roost.

Bottom: THIS HERE, boys, is the new school marm.

SNO - BALL

UNDER the co-sponsorship of Student Council and the Pan-Hellenic Association, the annual SNO-BALL again this year proved to be the highlight of the Christmas social season on campus. Over one hundred couples in formal attire danced as shimmering lights played on colorful red, white and silver decorations. Attention during intermission centered on Judy Braun, Sharon Sue Dotson, Marilyn Hanrahan, Pat Wilhoit and the selection of the Sno-Ball queen. Claudia Lowe and her committee should be commended for the evening's success.

AMID A SETTING of tinsel snowflakes and white fir, couples glide to the music of Al Ruph's band.

'TIS AT MOMENTS LIKE THIS that true creative inspiration flows through one's soul.

AND TO THINK we used to dread going to the dentist's!

SIGMA BETA

ON JANUARY 9, the doors of Epperson House were opened to students and faculty as the Sigma Betas combined their holiday festivities with the celebration of their 25th continuous and active year on campus. The band of Les Copley provided the music for the dance which is an annual event in the sorority's social calendar.

Blue lights shown from behind white fir trees decorated with a haze of angel hair to carry out the sorority's colors. The Sigma Beta crest of blue sparkle on a white background was in the spotlight on the balcony. A feature of the evening was the announcement of the new officers for the following semester.

"IS HE TAKING OUR PICTURES?"

"YOU SAY THE NICEST THINGS."

"WHAT D 'YA MEAN, SMILE?"

"I GET THE FEELING I'm just a Handy-man around here."

BEAUTY AND BEAST DANCE

BEAUTY LYNN THOMPSON and Beast Dick Shoemaker reign with mild complacency over the scene of festive revelers.

SOMETIMES WE'D LIKE to de-capitate people who monopolize smiling beauties.

CONTINUING the practice established last year, Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, sponsored the Beauty and the Beast Dance as a benefit for handicapped children.

Penny votes were cast in the beauty and beast contests with the final votes showing a victory for the Cho Chins as Lynn Thompson was selected as beauty and Cho Chin-sponsored Dick Shoemaker was named beast. Lynn was presented with a bouquet of roses. A jester's cap was Dick's symbol as beast.

Missouri School Number Nine for Retarded Children was the real winner, however, as the two contests and the dance netted over $325 for the school.

IT'S NOT THAT WE CAN'T can-can; it's just that we'd rather serenade our favorite royalties.

THE EPPERSON HOUSE LOUNGE provided ample room and campus atmosphere for the excellently planned and executed activity.

BUSHWACKER

Bushwacker Queen Mary Ann Luman . . . and husband Jack.

GO WEST YOUNG MEN (and girls), and the Dental School went—across the river to the National Guard Armory in Kansas City, Kansas for the annual Bushwacker Ball. The Pyorrhea Palace Saloon, opened by the Junior Class and managed by “dead eye” Dick Dryden, was closed at 1:00 a.m. by the sheriff who decided that fledgling dentists need sleep (board exams are important, pardner), and instructors, while not needing sleep, should refrain from overly strenuous activities. Skits, not at all subtle in their satirical jabs at faculty members, provided entertainment, and music for dancing was provided by Warren Durrett’s neo-western band. Jack Luman’s pretty wife, Mary Ann, was crowned 1960 Bushwacker Queen, and Dr. Carl Sawyer was chosen as most popular professor.

BUM

LEGITIMATE AND PSUEDO CAMPUS BUMS became indistinguishably one on the fun-impacted, mud-caked, sun-baked day, annually set aside to honor the bums of Friday. Patched pants, faded levis, shorts (short and long), beards and other bum-like features marked the campusites who were pleased that classes had been dismissed and they were allowed to participate in a few raucous, tension easing exercises before being persecuted with final exams.

The results of the faculty-student baseball game indicated that the athletic-bent faculty members were the better bums; they won the error-laden contest 11-10. TKEs and Cho Chins were also bums; they won the skit and talent contests. A barbeque luncheon was held on the patio. Notable bums: Gilbert Bledsoe, most impressive beard; Pat Wilhoit, Kangaroo Queen; John Galliher, Most Fascinating Man; freshmen Dent students, winners of the mud hole tug of war.

Faculty Bums won the ball game.

THAT NIGHT, UNDER A CANOPY OF CLOUDS, the Friday Bums, transfigured in formal attire, danced to music that complemented the Hobo in Heaven theme. At intermission, the winners of the early-day contests were announced, the Kangaroo Queen, Pat Wilhoit, crowned, and the Most Fascinating Man John Galliher, bussed by Sigma Beta's who sponsored him. TKE sponsored the Queen. Fred Wilkins M.C.ed the dance program. Co-chairmen of the traditional student council event were Deanna Riley and Carl Knott.

WELCOME DANCE

EXCEPT for a lack of sand, the gymnasium, on the evening of October 2, might well have passed for the colorful beach at Waikiki. Event: the annual. Student Council sponsored Welcome Dance, highlighted this year by the appearance of exotic hula-dancers. Amid bright leis, grass huts, bamboo decorations, and the occasional Hawaiian music of Bill Melton's Combo, new and returning students launched the social program of the '60 year.

SO WHAD'YA EXPECT? Hawaiian Punch?

IT LOOKS LIKE THE LINEUP. Or perhaps a practice session at Arthur Murray's.

BUSINESSMEN'S HEAVEN

ON ONE occasion during the academic year all was not strictly business in the University Business School. Accounting sets, tax forms, ulcers, and at least the arabic figures were cast aside on a November night in favor of light entertainment via the annual dinner-dance. The KangaROOST, hung with blue and white streamers and silver-studded stars, became the scene of celestial beauty and perfection as the angelic figures pictured below ate, drank, and made merry to the music of Ernest Daniels, untroubled by thoughts of the morrow. One of the evening's highlights was the after-dinner speech by Mr. Leon Adelman.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

HOLIDAY CONCERTS by the University choir have become a part of the music makers traditions in Kansas City and the surrounding area. A thanksgiving tour took the choir to Atchison, St. Joseph, and Leavenworth. They presented a varied program which included Bach, Handel, Folk songs, and contemporary works. "The Christmas Story," a cantata by Johannes Petzold, was an outstanding part of the Choir's holiday repertoire.

The Choir's spring tour began amid some debate as to the rightful place of Choir members the night of the Bum Friday songfest. Although accused of being disloyal, Choir members forsook the contest to make a nine-day tour giving eighteen concerts.

This extended tour by the Choir is one of the major publicity outlets for the University. The high quality of the singers provides good advertising for KCU. Dr. W. Everett Hendricks, director of the Choir for ten years, is responsible for the excellence of its performance.

Dr. Hendricks completed his tenth year as director of the University Choir.

CHOIR PRACTICE

POLISHED PERFORMANCES BY THE CHOIR are a direct result of many arduous practice sessions. The choir's singing time on stage reflects many hours spent perfecting techniques and selections. Choir members, from various schools of the University, gather in the gymnasium to sing and then sing again and again the music they will present at Christmas, at high school concerts, and on the spring tour of the southern states. Not only music occupies their choir time, however, as members also act as their own stage crew, loading and unloading props, and setting the stage. "Standing room only" performances and nationwide recognition is the just reward for these students who practice regularly and enthusiastically as members of the University of Kansas City Choir.

UNIVERSITY

THE FIRST PREREQUISITE for "good theatre" is of course a good play. Excellent backstage preparations and operations will not render bad drama good, and at best, will serve as ends in themselves. A good play on the other hand can be badly presented if direction and production are less than adequate. We are fortunate to have at the University of Kansas City, talented and capable people who bring us "good theatre." The Theatre staff, under the leadership of Dr. Patricia McIlrath, have combined their abilities to bring us one outstanding production after another. The success of the experimental dramas reflect the techniques and methods the student directors have learned from their instructors. Because each element of the theatre is treated as an organic functioning part of the whole, the 1959-60 Playhouse year has been successful. Directing, acting, lighting, make-up, sets, and costuming have been correlated with good dramas; "good theatre" is the end.

WRITTEN IN 1920, this drama voices the Czechoslovakian playwright's protest against the depersonalized march of science and invention. The play is a bitter attack on the trend toward mechanized civilization. It is also an affirmative reply to those who feared that the prophets of materialism had abolished the individual.

"It was in 1939," writes Patricia Moyes who translated Jean Anouilh's play Time Remembered, "that Anouilh wrote a sparkling romantic comedy about a Duchess, a Prince, a ballerina and a milliner, which he called Leocadia. In 1940, with the shadows lengthening across France, the piece was produced in Paris . . . but within a few weeks, the tragedy of defeat had engulfed the city, and this fragile butterfly of a play perished unnoticed in the cataclysm. It has always seemed to me a strange irony that this, of all Anouilh's plays, should have appeared at that particular moment in time; for, unlike the rest of his work, it is free of cynicism, from bitterness and from despair. It is, in essence, a joyful statement of faith in life, in common sense and in quality—a mood which no creative writer could have been expected to sustain in the black years that followed."

THIS YEAR the University of Kansas City Debate Squad gained national stature by winning tournament championships in major intercollegiate debate tournaments in five states. The UKC senior division debate team of Richard Replogle and Paul Black won tournament championships at the Broncho Tournament, the Baylor University Tournament, and the East Central Tournament. In addition, they captured third place in honors in two of the most significant tournaments in the nation—the Heart of America Tournament at the University of Kansas, and the tournament held at Emporia, Kansas.

The UKC junior division debate team of Roy Leeper and Bill Crawford won four championship tournaments this year to establish them as one of the outstanding freshman teams in the nation. They won the junior division debate championships at Southwestern College, Millsaps College, and at the Gorilla Tournament. They also won the championship trophy in varsity competition at Kearney, Nebraska.

Other UKC debaters who finished the season with at least a 75% win record were the teams of Roger Morphew and Beverly Walton, and Russell Kissir and Albert Graubeger.

This year the UKC Debate Squad participated in thirteen tournaments for a composite record of 134 wins and 33 losses. Black and Replogle won 71 debates—a new season record for a UKC team. The longest winning streak of the season was compiled by Leeper and Crawford.

RADIO KCUR-FM

THE LIVE BROADCAST of "The Marriage of Figaro" introduced a new area of operations for radio KCUR, the University's FM station. Completing its third year of broadcasting, the station noted for fine selections of recorded music ranging from opera to jazz, has expanded its facilities to include live music.

In addition to regular programming activities, KCUR has assisted the playhouse by recording background music and sound effects used in the plays, and has provided practical experience for radio-speech majors. The station is under the guidance of Sam Scott, managing director, and Gloria Miller.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC STAFF

IT HAS been said that an athletic program is only as strong as its coaching staff. With this as a criteria, the success of the 1959-60 teams and organizations is a significant tribute to the quality of leadership and inspiration displayed by the University's outstanding staff. If their past record is any indication of what the future holds, then UKC teams will be earning steadily more respect throughout the schools of the area in the years to come.

BASKETBALL

UKC's 1960 BASKETBALL TEAM, with a record of 10 wins and 15 defeats, was the best in the history of the sport at the University. The team placed first in the Independence tourney, defeating William Jewell and Tarkio. Second place trophies were won by the Kangaroos at the Concordia and UKC tournaments. The UKC defense was rated 19th in the nation, out of 470 teams. Seniors Joe Haines, Jerry Fair, and Dean Marriott formed the nucleus of the team. His teammates elected Marriott, four year letterman, Most Valuable Player. Rockhurst's continued supremacy over the UKC five was one great disappointment of the season. The Hawks won the two encounters by the narrowest of margins.

DEAN MARRIOTT WAS ELECTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER by his teammates. A four year letterman, Marriott ranked tenth in district scoring and set a new season scoring record for UKC.

In addition to his work on the court, Marriott, a Business School student, is a student member of the Athletic Committee and is president of the K-Club. He is the holder of a Victor Wilson scholarship and has appeared on the Dean's List. Marriott is a member of Delta Chi social fraternity and Nu Rho Psi business fraternity. TRACK TEAM

THIS YEAR'S TRACK TEAM was notably strong in some fields and exceptionally weak in others. The strength of the team was evident in the broad jump, hurdles, discus, and javelin events. The team's schedule was built around big meets because the lack of depth of the team prevented dual meets. Individual performances by the tracksters broke a number of existing meet records. Bill Nickel and Harv Greer set new marks.

The second annual KCU Relays was termed a success as new records were established and area high schoolers participated for the first time. Graceland College won the meet. KCU placed sixth. Westport won the high school division.

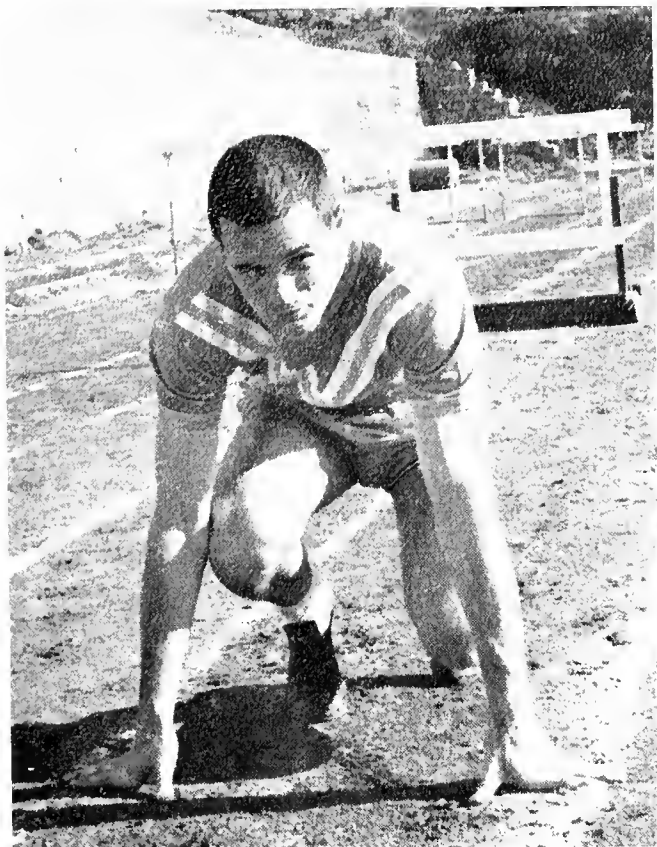

FRED BEILE, track coach, was honored this year when he received one of the annual "Night of Sports" awards made to persons who have contributed to sports activities in the local area. Beile was honored for developing the Olympics track and field sports the past two summers.

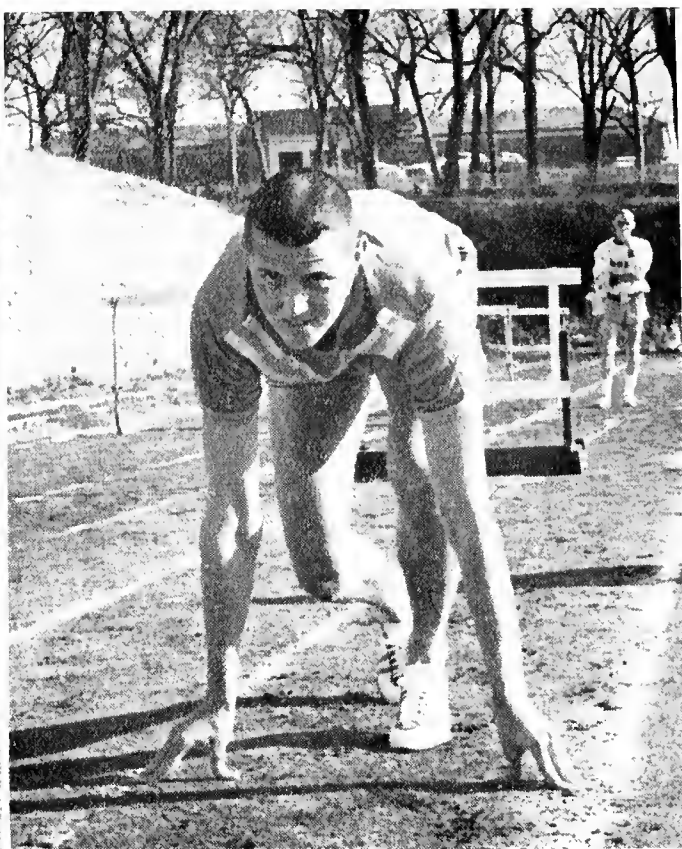

BILL NICKEL IS RANKED TWELFTH in the United States in the hop-step-jump. He has been called "KCU's only hope when it enters the big meets of national competition." In the Shreveport Relays, Nickel set a new record in the hop-step-jump with a leap of 46' 8½". He set a new meet, field, and school record when he spanned 23' 6½" in the broad jump at the KCU relays. Bill also won the hop-step-jump with a mark of 46' 1". At Kansas State University, Nickel hit 47' 11" in his specialty.

HARV GREER SET A ONE-MEET SCORING RECORD in a four-team meet at St. Joseph, Missouri. His 19½-point effort topped the previous record of 18 points. The three-year letterman won the broad jump, tied for first in the high jump and took second in the low hurdles. He was third in the high hurdles and the discus and fourth in the javelin.

The versatile Greer placed in the high jump, broad jump, javelin, and hop-step-jump at the UKC Relays adding 9½ points to the Kangies total.

ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS of stimulating and maintaining school spirit at local athletic events, the UKC Pep Club surpassed itself this year. Attending and supporting the sports program locally and on the road, the Pep Club was at least one of the contributing factors in giving the University a successful basketball season. In other areas as well, the organization has proved to be a necessary and functional asset to the student program at the University.

CHEERLEADERS

IT IS COMMON KNOWLEDGE that we Kangaroos boasted a first-rate basketball team this past year. Credit for this phenomenon may be given to our excellent coaching staff, our divinely inspired team, and the overwhelming enthusiasm on the part of the student body. We are prone to overlook, however, the most decisive force in producing any championship team, that charming group of enthusiastic co-eds known as cheerleaders. We extend our appreciation to these faithful seven for those countless hours spent in practicing intricate anatomical contortions, for the hours of labor involved in teaching the student body the cheer, "Two-bits, four-bits, six-bits, a dollar . . ." and for giving the team that extra push needed for a last-second win.

a Denture is an Emotional Experience...

... and the natural patient symptoms of fear and depression can be greatly reduced, and sometimes overcome, by skillful use of the many elements in the Trubyte Esthetics Program

THE FIRST CONSULTATION CAN BE INFORMATIVE AND REASSURING✓

Trubyte Patient Education Aids make it possible for you to show your patients, clearly and dramatically, what modern prosthetic dentistry can accomplish. When your patients see "Living Dentures," they will understand, perhaps for the first time, that the denture experience need not be associated with advancing age and declining vigor. The proper presentation of this beautiful new patient education book will contribute immeasurably to the process of psychological readjustment, and will enlist the patient cooperation so necessary to the final success of the restoration.

THE PRELIMINARY CHAIR WORK CAN BUILD PATIENT CONFIDENCE AND FACILITATE THE INITIAL STEPS OF THE DENTURE CREATION.

The Trubyte Bioform Professional Denture Service Unit can be invaluable to you and your patients. The Unit is an important aid to preliminary tooth selection and arrangement—equally important, perhaps, is its value in demonstrating to your patients the personalized and individualized character of your denture service. Your patients will understand what you are doing for them, and why.

THE TRY-IN CAN BE A MOMENT OF RELIEF AND GRATITUDE.

The first try-in of the completely successful restoration can be a richly rewarding experience for both you and your patient. Certainly, this experience is dependent primarily upon the application of your professional knowledge and skill to the problems of esthetic denture design. Yet many dentists have found that the Trubyte Bioform System of Tooth Selection and Arrangement, and the exclusive use of Trubyte

Bioform Teeth, are essential to consistently excellent results. This is because the Trubyte Bioform System is based upon over sixty years of continuing study of Nature's underlying principles as evidenced in the healthy, natural dentition, and because Trubyte Bioform Teeth provide the wide variety of natural tooth forms, and the radiant vitality of natural tooth shades, which simulate the beauty of living teeth.

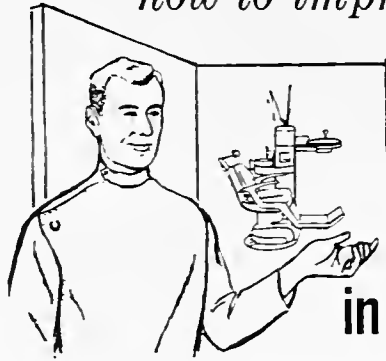

Esthetics and Trubyte are inseparable. Your Trubyte Representative will show you how both Esthetics and Trubyte can build your prosthetic practice.

CRAFTSMANSHIP

Our clients demand the finest in dental prosthetics . . . and get it! When they entrust their bridgework to us, the end result is more than just another restoration . . . for the secret of our processing success is CRAFTSMANSHIP, the invisible ingredient in superior dental service.

As master craftsman, we recommend vacuum fired porcelain fused to gold restorations. They combine the esthetic naturalness of translucent porcelain with the perfect fit and permanent strength of gold bonded to it underneath.

In performance, gold and porcelain restorations are shock proof, impervious to mouth fluids, and benign to tissue; in appearance, beautifully life like with perfect shade and anatomy permanently built in . . . truly a product of superior craftsmanship.

Vacuum fired porcelain fused to gold restorations have been accepted the world over as the finest in full coverage. Let us prove it to you.
